

TURAN-ASTANA UNIVERSITY

CATALOG OF ELECTIVE DISCIPLINES
ACCORDING TO THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM
6B04202 «International law»

DURATION OF TRAINING - 4 YEARS

ADMISSION – 2023

ASTANA – 2023

Catalog of elective disciplines
educational program 6B04202 «INTERNATIONAL LAW»

odule code	Name of the module	Discipline code	Name of the discipline	Summary	Number of credits	Term	Prerequisites	Post-requirements	Expected results of the study of disciplines
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Basic disciplines
Component of choice
		IYaPD-12309	Foreign language in professional activity-1.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' linguistic and linguistic country-specific competencies for successful business communication in English. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: A foreign language of professional activity. The concept of linguistics of the English language. The concept of professional linguistics of a foreign language. General house communication in English. The concept of country studies. English in other countries.	4/4	4	Basic foreign language, Introduction to Linguistics.	Foreign language II.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: phonetic, lexical and grammatical phenomena necessary for the implementation of international communication in a foreign language. The importance and role of foreign languages in modern professional communication. 2. Skills acquired by students: apply various forms and types of oral and written communication in a foreign language; achieve communication goals of interpersonal communication and intercultural interaction. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: possess a foreign language at a level that allows you to carry out the main types of speech activity; the ability to logically, correctly, argumentatively and clearly build oral and written speech in a foreign language.
		DAY 2309	Business English.	The purpose of studying the discipline: development of intercultural and foreign language communicative competence. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: A foreign language of professional activity. The concept of business English. Business vocabulary Business/professional vocabulary. Cliches and expressions by topic. Design, drafting of a business letter. Types of business letters. Business communication. Dating a business partner.	4/4	4	Basic foreign language, Introduction to Linguistics. Foreign language I.	Foreign language II, III.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: formulas of speech etiquette (entering into a conversation with a stranger, expressing a question, introducing someone to someone, greetings, congratulations, invitation and acceptance of an invitation, expression of gratitude). 2. Skills acquired by students: exchange information, express your attitude (expressing a desire to do something, expressing optimism about something, expressing approval/disapproval, expressing an opinion, avoiding expressing an opinion, expressing preference, displeasure, indignation, surprise, agreement/disagreement).

Profile disciplines
Component of choice
M 9	International legal module.	EP 4201	European law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: to give students the basic concepts of European law. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: Features of European law, its formation and evolution. The modern structure of European integration law. Legal protection of human rights. Legal regulation of the EU's domestic and foreign policy. The formation of integration law, its nature, features within the EU.	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, History of international law.	Public international Law, the European Court of Human Rights.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the concept, formation and development of European law. International normative documents of European law, as well as national legislation regulating legal relations, are a foreign element. 2. Skills acquired by students: to use the acquired knowledge in practice; analysis and synthesis, other methods of solving problems in professional activity. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: works with normative legal acts of international and national character, scientific literature and analytical materials in the field of European law. Capable of carrying out production or applied activities in an international environment.
M 9		AP 4201	English law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: students' mastery of the main sources and institutes of English law. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept and subject, methods and system combining laws (statutes) and precedents. The use of judicial interpretation of legislative norms. The role of the main instruments of English law in the preparation of legal documentation and	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, History of international law.	Public international Law, the European Court of Human Rights.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: theoretical concepts of English law, international normative documents of English law, and national legislation regulating legal relations. 2. Skills acquired by students: to use the acquired knowledge in practice; the use of various methods of solving problems in professional activity. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by

				structuring of transactions. International normative documents of English law. Rational legislation regulating legal relations complicated by a foreign element.					students: works with normative legal acts of international and national character, scientific literature and analytical materials in the field of English law. He is able to qualify legal facts and apply the applicable legal norms to them.
M 10	Human Rights Protection module	DKP 3202	Diplomatic and consular law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: students' mastery of the main sources and institutes of English law. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept and subject, methods and system combining laws (statutes) and precedents. The use of judicial interpretation of legislative norms. The role of the main instruments of English law in the preparation of legal documentation and structuring of transactions. International normative documents of English law. Rational legislation regulating legal relations complicated by a foreign element.	4/4	5	Theory of State and law, Public International Law,.	Professional practice, Writing a thesis.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: basic documents and special scientific research on diplomatic consular law; the procedure for the formation and operation of diplomatic and consular missions of states. 2. Skills acquired by students: navigate the sources and literature on modern problems of diplomatic consular law; apply theoretical knowledge to analyze current problems related to legal aspects in the field of international relations. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: independent work with texts of international treaties and agreements, documents of international organizations of analysis, fundamentals of modern diplomatic consular law.
		MTP3202	International Customs law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of organizational and legal bases of international cooperation in the customs sphere among students. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept and sources of international customs law. Subjects of international customs law. Customs space. Characteristics of customs regulation in the EAEU. Familiarization with the activities of the World Customs Organization, the United Nations, other international organizations and the generally recognized standards of customs regulation formed by them, which are reflected in international customs conventions and other international treaties.	4/4	5	Theory of State and law, Private international law, Commercial law.	Business law of the Republic of Kazakhstan and foreign countries, Legal regulation of foreign economic activity.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: organizational and legal bases and forms of international cooperation in the customs sphere; the main sources of international customs law and the generally recognized standards of legal regulation of customs operations, customs control and customs payments contained therein. 2. Skills acquired by students: apply knowledge of international customs law in the exercise of official powers and duties of an employee of a customs or other state body involved in the regulation of customs and foreign trade operations; use knowledge of international customs law in the implementation of tax planning in the implementation of foreign trade operations regulated by customs legislation. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: possession of the basic generally accepted customs administration techniques used in the practice of customs authorities, as well as the organization of interaction of the customs authority with participants in foreign trade activities; implementation of the main activities of the customs (tax) consultant at various stages of consulting on international customs law.

		MShP 3303	Private international law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' knowledge about the organization of civil turnover and commercial activity on an international scale and the main legislative provisions in this area. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept, subject and system of private international law. Interpretation of legal terms by referring to conflict of laws rules. Norms of private international law and methods of regulation. Subjects of private international law. Legal status of foreign property. The discipline also aims to deepen knowledge of civil law relations in general in the international arena.	5/5	6	Theory of State and law, Public international law.	Business law of the Republic of Kazakhstan and foreign countries, Legal regulation of foreign economic activity	1. Knowledge acquired by students: students get an idea of private international law as an independent branch of law; legal regulation and the procedure for determining the applicable law in the field of private law relations. 2. Skills acquired by students: to determine the international jurisdiction of various disputes involving an international element, to determine the rule of law to be applied to civil relations complicated by a foreign element, national and international legal regulation to determine the applicable law to private relations of a cross-border nature. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: independent analysis of the entire range of sources of private international law, written solution of incidents.
		SP3303	Insurance law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' system of legal knowledge in the field of insurance based on the consistent study of individual institutions of insurance law. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: fundamentals of insurance law of the Republic of Kazakhstan: concepts, sources, principles. The legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan On insurance: structure, features and application. Features of regulation of insurance activity in the Republic of Kazakhstan: licensing. Registration, control.	5/5	6	Theory of state and law, Constitutional Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Civil Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Advocacy, Prosecutors' supervision	Civil Procedural law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Criminal Procedural Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Advocacy, Prosecutors' supervision	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the main insurance categories and terms; features of the legal status of participants in insurance legal relations; legal features of state regulation of insurance business; the content of insurance disputes and ways to resolve them. 2. Skills acquired by students: navigate insurance legislation; apply the norms of insurance legislation to specific practical situations; analyze the provisions of local acts in relation to regulatory legal acts. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: assessment of the activities of insurance market entities for compliance with the requirements of insurance and financial

						stan.	n.	legislation; optimal choice of insurance program depending on the practical situation and the relevant conclusion of the insurance contract; representation of the parties to the insurance contract in court when resolving a dispute between them.
	IYaPD-II 3204	Foreign language in professional activity-2.	The purpose of studying the discipline: in-depth study of legal terminology; development of the communicative competence of international lawyers. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: Basic speech models for transmitting the main content of the text. The ambiguity of the word in the modern language. Synonyms, antonyms, phraseological phrases. Ideological expressions, abbreviations. The main types of dictionaries: bilingual and monolingual: explanatory, phraseological, terminological.	4/4	5	Basic foreign language. Introduction to Linguistics. Normative Kazakh language.	Foreign language III.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the meanings of new lexical units (4,500 lexical units) related to the topic of this stage of training and relevant communication situations (including evaluative vocabulary), replicas-cliches of speech etiquette reflecting the peculiarities of the culture of the country of the language being studied; country-specific information from authentic sources enriching the social experience of students; language tools and rules of speech and non-speech behavior in accordance with the sphere of communication and the social status of the partner. 2. Skills acquired by students: to use the studied grammatical phenomena; to conduct a dialogue using value judgments in situations of official and informal communication; to understand the content and extract the necessary information from professional texts. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: professional communication in a foreign language.
	IYaMK 3204	A foreign language in international communication.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation and development of students' knowledge, skills and skills of intercultural communicative competence. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept of a foreign language. Grammatical basics of a foreign language. The concept of linguistics. Translation activity of subjects of international law. Language tools and rules of speech and non-speech behavior in accordance with the sphere of communication and the social status of the partner.	4/4	5	Basic foreign language. Introduction to Linguistics. Normative Kazakh language.	Foreign language III.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: rules of interpersonal communication between representatives of different cultures; grammatical and phonetic systems of the studied language, necessary and sufficient for direct and indirect communication in this foreign language and for their active use in practice. 2. Skills acquired by students: to obtain the required information from educational foreign language texts based on computer and communication technologies; to apply acquired interpersonal communication skills in dialogic and monological forms of communication; to apply group communication skills.

		PMO 3305	The law of international organizations.	The purpose of studying the discipline: mastering students' knowledge about the basics of the discipline «Law of international organizations». Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept, subject, norms and sources of the law of international organizations. The history of the emergence of international organizations and their development at the present stage. Classification of international organizations, their legal status and role in building progressive international relations. The procedure for the creation of international organizations and the termination of their existence. International legal forms of activity of international intergovernmental organizations.	5/5	6	Theory of State and law, History of international law. Political science.	Public international law.	3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: intercultural communication in educational situations (direct and indirect forms), in situations of real communication with representatives of other foreign cultures in the field of universal and professional communication; practical skills and abilities to find, analyze, contextually process, use information from foreign sources and apply it in practice. 1. Knowledge acquired by students: features of the categories of the law of international organizations, its norms, principles and sources; the main normative legal acts on the law of international organizations; the specifics of the activities, the system of UN bodies; the main activities in the field of human rights protection; the main provisions on the responsibility of States for the illegal activities of an international organization of which they are members. 2. Skills acquired by students: correctly characterize the legal nature of international organizations; classification of modern international organizations; legal personality of international organizations; use international normative legal acts defining the legal status of international organizations. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: the main provisions of the norms and principles of the law of international organizations; the use and application of norms created by international organizations as a result of their activities.
		IP 3305	Enforcement proceedings.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' procedural knowledge in the field of the administration of justice in civil cases. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept,	5/5	6	Constitutional Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Civil Procedure	Insurance law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Civil Procedure	1. Knowledge acquired by students: in the field of enforcement proceedings, actions aimed at enforcement. 2. Skills acquired by students: perform executive actions, draw up a protocol of inventory and seizure of property.

			essence and history of the emergence of Enforcement proceedings. General and special in the legal status of the bailiff. A bailiff as a civil servant. The concept and classification of subjects of enforcement proceedings. Parties in enforcement proceedings. Participation of banks, tax and other state bodies in enforcement proceedings.			stan, Administrative Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Labor Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Civil Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan.	Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan.	3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: apply the laws «On Enforcement Proceedings», and other regulatory legal acts regulating relations in the field of enforcement of the requirements of enforcement documents; possess the skills of preparing legal documents in the field of public administration.
	MGP 4206	International humanitarian law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: familiarization with the history of the origin and development of international humanitarian law. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The role, values and tasks of the Institute of International Humanitarian Law. Features of the application of international humanitarian law. Legal protection of victims of armed conflicts. Protection of prisoners of war, protection of civilians and civilian objects during armed conflicts. Sources of international humanitarian law. Prohibition or restriction of means and methods of warfare. Implementation of the norms of international humanitarian law. Responsibility for violation of international humanitarian law.	5/5	7	Theory of state and law, Public international law, Criminal Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan.	Criminal Procedure law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Advocacy, Responsibility in international law.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: features of the subject of international humanitarian law, its norms and principles; on the status of participants in modern armed conflicts; the main provisions concerning the operation of human rights in a situation of armed conflict, as well as the relationship of international human rights law and international humanitarian law. 2. Skills acquired by students: to qualify modern armed conflicts; to determine the status of participants in armed conflicts; to determine permissible, prohibited or restricted means and methods of warfare. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: possess knowledge of the content and basic provisions of the norms of international humanitarian law concerning the protection of certain categories of persons in situations of armed conflict; possess skills in the application of international humanitarian law; the ability to apply the norms of international humanitarian law in practice and to ensure the rule of law, the rule of law, the security of the individual, society and the State.

		MSP4206	International family law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: deepening students' knowledge in the field of international family law. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: Human rights in the field of marriage and family. The role of the institution of marriage in international relations. The right to respect for family and private life in the practice of the European Court of Human Rights. Solving current legal conflicts in the field of family law. Conducting international court cases.	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, Public international law, Family law.	Civil procedural law of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Criminal Procedure law of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Advocacy. Notary public.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: current changes in civil and family legislation; current trends in the development of institutions of international family law; peculiarities of regulation of international family relations; the main provisions on the existing international acts regulating legal relations in the field of family and childhood. 2. Skills acquired by students: to interpret the current legal norms of international family law legally competently, to identify the main trends in the development of family law in modern conditions; to put into practice the knowledge gained and independently resolve practical situations arising in the field of international family law; independently conduct court cases. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: analysis of legal sources in the field of international family law; independent search and analysis of legal information using various sources and technical means.
		PRBED 4207	Legal regulation of foreign economic activity.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' modern knowledge in the field of international legal regulation of cooperation between states in the field of foreign economic activity. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept, subject, source of the law of foreign economic activity. Regulation and management of foreign economic activity. Organization and technique of operations in foreign economic activity. The legal regime of investments. Subjects of the law of foreign economic activity. Legal regulation of the regime of special economic zones. Currency regulation in	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, Public International law, Private International Law, International Trade Law, Internat	Business law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Business law of foreign countries.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: sectoral principles of legal regulation of foreign economic activity, composition, structure and trends in the development of legal regulation of relations in the field of foreign economic activity; patterns of development of legal practice, and its significance in the mechanism (system) of legal regulation; the state and development of international legal regulation and foreign legislation in the field of foreign economic activity. 2. Skills acquired by students: conflicts of norms, complex interactions, solving complex problems of law enforcement practice; to argue the decisions taken, to foresee the consequences of the decisions taken by him; to

			the Republic of Kazakhstan.			ional Economic Law.		interpret legal acts in their interaction in a qualified manner; to conduct an examination of legal acts. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: taking responsibility for their decisions within the framework of professional competence, drafting documents in the field of foreign economic activity and established practice; application of regulatory legal acts in the field of foreign economic activity.
		MPIS 4207	International intellectual property law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: familiarization of students with the main international agreements in the field of intellectual property. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: General provisions on intellectual property law in the Republic of Kazakhstan. Types of intellectual property law of international law. Fundamentals of the emergence of intellectual property law. The right to intellectual property objects. Legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan in the field of intellectual property protection. Ways to protect intellectual property. The emergence of copyright.	5/5	7	Private international Law, Intellectual Property Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Civil Law, Copyright.	Business law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Business law of foreign countries.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: regulatory legal acts regulating the sphere of intellectual property; types of intellectual property; rights and obligations of authors of works, inventions, industrial designs, utility models and trademarks, etc.; methods of protection of rights in the field of intellectual property. 2. Skills acquired by students: analyze the features of legal relations arising in the field of intellectual property; operate with concepts and definitions of the course; implement the theoretical knowledge gained in the conditions of practical activity. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: work with regulatory legal acts of the Republic of Kazakhstan regulating the sphere of intellectual property; application of methods of intellectual property protection in practice.
		MNP 3308	International tax law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: students gain knowledge about the tax jurisdiction of states. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept and content of international tax law. The concept, subject and system of international tax law. Sources of international tax law. The doctrine of international tax law. Features of legal regulation of tax relations complicated by	5/5	6	Theory of State and Law, Constitutional Law, Financial Law.	Public international law, private international law,	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the provisions of tax legislation, regulatory legal acts and make qualified legal decisions within the framework of their professional activities legal acts. Regulating international tax relations. 2. Skills acquired by students: analyze, draw conclusions in situations based on tax legal relations; formulate a legal position based on the norms of tax legislation and law enforcement practice.

				a foreign element. Legal regulation of tax relations with the participation of organizations.						3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: skills of analyzing legal relations arising in a specific field of professional activity; the ability to draw conclusions, formulate a position and make decisions based on the norms of tax law in specific types of legal activity.
		PRDB 3308	Legal regulation of exchanges.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' knowledge system on the issues of legal regulation of stock exchanges. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The history of creation, the concept and types of exchanges. The regulatory and legal basis of the exchanges' activities. Disclosure (provision) of information and documents by the organizer of exchanges. Transactions made on organized exchanges. State regulation and self-regulation of exchanges. The technique of carrying out exchange operations. Trends in the development of stock trading.	5/5	6	Theory of State and Law, Constitutional Law, Financial Law	Public international law, Private international law, Civil Procedural Law.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the legal and organizational structure of exchanges; the main features of the classification of exchanges: exchange goods; the principle of organization; the status of the exchange; forms of participation in exchange trading; the nomenclature of goods; type of exchange transactions. 2. Skills acquired by students: correlate exchange activity with general economic processes in the economy; analyze the results of exchange trading in relation to the dynamics of the economic situation. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: the basic conceptual apparatus used in exchange activity; methodology of research of exchange activity; operational skills of exchange work.
M 10		MSRMS 4209	Peaceful ways of resolving international disputes.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' scientific understanding of the modern system of international dispute resolution tools, the special role of international judicial institutions in dispute resolution. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: International judicial institutions. International arbitration courts (arbitrations). The main features of the International Court of Justice of the United Nations are studied. Analysis of decisions (conclusions, rulings) adopted by international courts. Work with normative sources of international judicial institutions and their use in specific practical conditions.	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, Public international law.	International arbitration.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: theoretical foundations of international dispute resolution, systems and ways of resolving international disputes; the main peaceful means of resolving international disputes; current trends in the development of peaceful ways of resolving international disputes and the activities of international, regional and national judicial bodies. 2. Skills acquired by students: to apply the norms of peaceful means of dispute resolution for different situations of international law and its subjects; to analyze non-standard situations of law enforcement practice and develop various solutions; to interpret legal acts professionally in their interaction; to conduct an examination of legal acts.

									3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: apply peaceful means of resolving disputes of international law; analyze and try to resolve modern disputes of international law using peaceful means.
M 10		MDP 4209	International legal framework for the protection of the rights of women and children.	The purpose of teaching the discipline: формирование у студентов системных представлений о защите прав женщин и детей. It is studied within the framework of this discipline: The history of the formation and development of rights in the field of women and children. Interpretation of the principles and norms of international law in the field of women and children and their application in practice. The system and powers of UN bodies. The procedure for the development, discussion and adoption of the main international treaties in the field of women and children.	5/5	7	Theory of state and law, Public International law, Family Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan.	Convention law, Prosecutorial supervision, Advocacy.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the subject of regulation and theoretical concepts of international law in the field of protection of the rights of women and children; fundamental universal and regional sources of international law in the field of protection of the rights of women and children; conditions and procedure for the application of principles and norms of international law in the field of protection of the rights of women and children in the Republic of Kazakhstan. 2. Skills acquired by students: analyze the principles and norms of international law in the field of human rights protection; independently resolve issues related to the interpretation of sources of international law in the field of women's and children's rights protection; 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: Drafting and processing of documents related to the application of international law on the rights of women and children, including complaints to regional human rights courts, primarily to the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg, to other international monitoring bodies.
		MEP 4210	International environmental law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' knowledge of international environmental law as a regulator of modern interstate and other international relations in the field of environmental protection. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept, subject, principles, sources and codification of international environmental law. The history of the formation and	5/5	7	Theory of state and law, History of state and law of foreign countries.	Public international law, the law of international treaties.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the main sources of international legal regulation of environmental protection; the role of the principles of international law in regulating international environmental relations and special principles of international environmental law; norms aimed at protecting individual components of the natural environment, the system of means of resolving international environmental disputes and the specifics of their application.

			development of international environmental law. International legal protection of the atmosphere. The ozone layer of the Earth and outer space. The role and place of environmental law in the system of international law. Norms of the Institute of Liability for Transboundary Damage.					2. Skills acquired by students: identify problems, patterns and features of the development of international environmental law; apply the norms of international environmental law; determine the compliance of national legislation with the international obligations of the Republic of Kazakhstan in the field of international environmental law. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: methodology of application of international and national legal procedures in the field of implementation of the norms of international environmental law; the main ways of applying the norms of international documents in the field of international environmental law.
	KP 4210	Corporate law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: to form students' understanding of the peculiarities of corporate relations and the problems of their legal regulation. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: Legal regulation of corporate relations. Management of a corporation (joint-stock company). The General Meeting of Participants as the supreme body of corporate governance. Register of Shareholders. Transactions in a joint-stock company. Contractual work. Corporate securities and corporate capital. Corporate scandal. The authorized capital and shares of the joint-stock company. Ordinary and preferred shares of the joint-stock company.	5/5	7	Theory of state and law. Constitutional law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Civil Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan.	Civil procedural law of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Criminal Procedure law of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Advocacy. Notary public.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the main debatable issues of modern corporate law; basic concepts and categories of corporate law; modern legislation, regulations and other acts regulating corporate relations. 2. Skills acquired by students: analyze regulatory legal acts regulating the activities of corporations; evaluate the role of corporations in the modern market economy; apply the norms of corporate law in practice. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: possess the skills of analyzing regulatory legal acts regulating corporate law; modern methods of data collection, processing and analysis in corporate relations. Be competent in analyzing the legal situation related to the subject of the course in search of normative and theoretical material.
	MEP 4211	International economic law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: study of the provisions concerning the modern international legal regulation of international economic relations. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The concept of international economic law. The history of the creation of international economic law.	5/5	7	Theory of state and law. Constitutional law of foreign countries	Public international law, Private International Law, International Investment	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the legal content of the principles of international economic law; traditional international organizations and organizations of economic integration; legal regulation of relations in the EAEU; the role of the WTO in the international economic system. 2. Skills acquired by students: to distinguish

			Sources of international economic law. The purpose and objectives of international economic law. Subjects and objects of international economic law. Norms of the institute of liability for economic damage.			es, Environmental law of the Republic of Kazakhstan.	Law.	between public and private legal levels of international economic relations; to assess the measure of state regulation of foreign trade activities taking into account the international legal obligations of the state; to analyze the content of international treaties and customs; to argue for the adoption of measures of state regulation of foreign economic activity and departing from WTO law. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: knowledge in the field of legal regulation of international economic relations; skills in working with materials of judicial practice, analysis of disputable situations; concepts and categories of international economic law, including WTO law.
	MIP 4211	International integration law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' knowledge on the forms of cooperation of a certain group of states, within which these states jointly implement goals in various areas of cooperation for mutual rapprochement. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: Theoretical apparatus and a coherent system of views in the consideration of issues of modern world cooperation. Formation of a global political, economic and cultural community. The activities of organizations as participants in international relations. Principles, fundamentals, patterns, features of the functioning of the modern global economy and the integration processes taking place in it.	5/5	7	Public international law, Private International law.	Professional practice.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: prerequisites and essence of integration; forms of integration associations; characteristics of the main integration groups; the main international organizations, the scope of their activities. 2. Skills acquired by students: it is enough to confidently navigate in various forms of integration associations and spheres of activity of international organizations; critically assess the role of international organizations in the global economy. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: the necessary theoretical knowledge and practical skills to promote the interests of the Republic of Kazakhstan in international organizations; skills in analyzing modern integration processes in the world economy; methods of forecasting world integration processes.
	MEA 4212	International Economic Arbitration.	The purpose of studying the discipline: mastering students' knowledge about the main sources and institutions of international commercial arbitration. It is studied within the framework of this discipline: The concept, types of legal	5/5	7	Public international law, private international	Civil procedural law, Prosecutor's supervision,	1. Knowledge acquired by students: international regulatory documents, as well as national legislation in the field of international commercial arbitration; current key issues in the field of international commercial arbitration.

		regulation of international commercial arbitration. Arbitration agreement and the competence of international commercial arbitration. Dispute resolution procedure in international commercial arbitration. Applicable law in international commercial arbitration. Challenging, recognition and enforcement of decisions of international commercial arbitration.			law. Commercial law.	Advocacy.	2. Skills acquired by students: ИСПОЛЬЗОВАТЬ acquired knowledge in practice, including by participating in the proceedings of private law disputes in international commercial arbitration. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: works with normative legal acts of international and national character, scientific literature and analytical materials in the field of international commercial arbitration, arbitration practice.
MUP 4212	International criminal law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: students' mastery of the theoretical foundations of the branch of international criminal law and practical aspects of the implementation of its norms in the domestic legislation of states. Within the framework of this discipline, the following are studied: The history of the formation and development of International criminal law. The concept, sources and principles of international criminal law. The concept and types of international offenses. International crimes (concept and types). Transnational crimes (concept, types). International standards in the field of criminal justice.	5/5	7	Theory of state and law, Public international law, Criminal Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan.	International security law.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the specifics of the subject of international criminal law, as well as its norms; the basic principles of international criminal law and its sources; the scope of international criminal law; the content of the norms governing relations between subjects of international law in the field of combating international and transnational crimes. 2. Skills acquired by students: distinguish between categories of international and transnational crimes; apply the norms of international criminal law in practice. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: knowledge of the content and main provisions of the norms of international criminal law; skills in the application of the norms of international criminal law.
MTP 4213	International trade law.	The purpose of studying the discipline: formation of students' comprehensive deep understanding of the nature and essence of international trade law, its norms, institutions. It is studied within the framework of this discipline: The concept of international trade law. Regulators of international commercial contracts. International commercial contract. Conclusion of an international commercial contract. The technique of drawing up an international commercial contract.	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, Public international law, Private international Law, Civil law.	Housing law, Inheritance law, Property rights and other property rights.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the current legislation regulating international trade relations, the main problems and practice of its application; subjects of international trade relations; special terminology. 2. Skills acquired by students: analyze, apply and interpret regulatory legal acts; legally correctly qualify facts and circumstances; give qualified legal opinions and consultations; make decisions and perform legal actions in strict accordance with the law. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by

		Reservations of an international commercial contract.					students: culture of thinking, the ability to generalize, analyze, perceive information, set goals and choose ways to achieve it; skills in solving practical problems; skills in preparing legal documents.
MPNPAM P 4313	International legal and national legal aspects of the migration process.	The purpose of studying the discipline: teaching students the correct orientation in the current migration legislation, the ability to interpret and apply the norms of migration law to specific facts of life, It is studied within the framework of this discipline: The legal nature of migration relations. Methods of implementing migration policy. The structure of the migration and legal mechanism. Sources of migration legislation. Rights and obligations of migrants. Competence of migration administration bodies. Types of liability for violations of migration legislation. The procedure for resolving migration and legal disputes.	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, Administrative law, Public International law, Private International Law.	Business law of the Republic of Kazakhstan and foreign countries, Legal regulation of foreign economic activity.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: the structure of the migration law system of the Republic of Kazakhstan, the specifics of the content of its main elements; the principles of migration law and the procedure for their implementation in various labor relations; the basics of legal regulation of migration relations, types of legal relations within the framework of migration activities of the state; the rights and obligations of subjects of migration law. 2. Skills acquired by students: independently master the concepts and terms of migration law and apply them in solving practical situations; legally correctly qualify facts and circumstances in the field of migration relations, determine their legal content; analyze legal phenomena, legal facts, norms, in the field of legal regulation of migration activities. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: skills in applying the basic concepts and terms of migration law; ideas about legal facts in migration law, their manifestation in various types of migration legal relations; the procedure for drawing up basic documents in the framework of migration relations.
DEP 4214	Diplomatic etiquette and protocol.	The purpose of studying the discipline: preparing a student for the specifics of studying the main protocol measures and procedures used in modern diplomatic practice. Within the framework of this discipline, the following is studied: General characteristics and role of the diplomatic protocol in international relations. Diplomatic protocol and etiquette in international communication. Historical	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, Constitutional Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan,	Private international law, Legal regulation of foreign economic activity.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: perform protocol functions in accordance with the peculiarities of diplomatic protocol and etiquette of the Republic of Kazakhstan and foreign countries. 2. Skills acquired by students: organize and conduct typical events in the field of international relations: visits, negotiations, etc. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: norms of regional diplomatic

		stages of the formation of the diplomatic protocol. Functions and structure of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Collecting, analyzing, processing information and maintaining documentation: duties of diplomatic agencies. Diplomatic etiquette: receptions, clothes, conversations.			Public International Law.		etiquette in international contacts of economic entities, perform protocol functions in accordance with the peculiarities of the diplomatic protocol and etiquette of the Republic of Kazakhstan and foreign countries; organize and conduct typical events in the field of international relations: visits, negotiations, etc.; carry out diplomatic correspondence with foreign partners or foreign policy bodies of the Republic of Kazakhstan; comply with the norms of regional diplomatic etiquette in international contacts of economic entities.
MPRIG42 14	International legal regulation of the institution of citizenship.	The purpose of studying the discipline: to familiarize in-depth with the issues related to the implementation of the institute of citizenship. Within the framework of this discipline, the following is studied: The concept of legislation on citizenship. The origins of the legislation on citizenship. The social and legal nature of citizenship. Constitutional rights, freedoms and duties of a person and a citizen. Types of legal provisions (statuses) in international law. Subjects of public relations developing on issues of citizenship.	5/5	7	Theory of State and law, Public international law, International protection of human rights.	Professional/ pre-graduate practice.	1. Knowledge acquired by students: Legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan; the Constitution of the Republic of Kazakhstan, constitutional laws, generally recognized principles, norms of international law and international treaties of the Republic of Kazakhstan, the essence and content of the basic concepts and categories, including the theory of legal facts, the grounds for the emergence of various legal relations. 2. Skills acquired by students: comply with the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan, including the Constitution of the Republic of Kazakhstan, constitutional laws and laws, as well as generally recognized principles, norms of international law and international treaties of the Republic of Kazakhstan. 3. Skills and competencies acquired by students: compliance with the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan, drafting of procedural documents, application of the norms of international law and international treaties of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Reviewed and presented at the meeting of the Department of «National and International Law», protocol _6_ «_01_» _02_ 2023.

Discussed and recommended at the meeting of the Academic Committee of the Humanities and Law School, protocol _4_ «_16_» _02_ 2023.

The catalog of Elective disciplines is agreed:

№	Agreed with employers (name of the organization, position, full name)
1	Department of Inquiry of the Police Department on Transport of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Head Kabdualiev M.M.
2	Department of the Investigative Department of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Deputy.Chief Koigeldin N.
3	Deputy.Head of Personnel Policy of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of the Republic of Kazakhstan Alekeshev Sh .